Gang Data Rules

Intellectual Property Bootlegging

Welcome

The rules laid out here apply to all digital and print media provided by the collective Gang to the individual members.

Not only is it impossible to restrict the bootlegging of information, its an old, obsolete system designed to withhold information from the masses, which is fucked.

This Gang will always be built on the model that all data provided becomes the shared property of the members who may do whatever they please with said data.

Take it, and level up, however you see fit.
