LEADING THE WAY IN HEMP AND BIOMASS TRANSPORTATION

The Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 removed hemp from the Controlled Substances Act and opened the door for interstate hemp transportation. It now boils down to hemp manufacturers discovering how to control their supply chain.

The 2019 growing season will be the largest in the United States in decades. Hemp shipments will come up, and law enforcement might confuse the crop for the unlawful marijuana.

Commitment to secure & safe shipments

We are a fully certified transportation brokerage capable of carrying up to $1M in cargo insurance. Our carriers have hauled hemp and have trucks with tamper-proof and locked doors for security.

Work with the best carriers

All our carriers go through a rigorous program to become certified before they can haul any of our shipments.
